Jones Co. 4-H Club Boys Win Again at Ft. Worth

William Brigham, Tuxedo 4-H club boy, stood fourth in two classes at the annual Fort Worth Fat Stock Show and won a total of $52.00 in premium money. These prizes were won in the group of three calves fed by one boy and in the light weight division, which included calves under 900 pounds. Wayne Ashburn, 4-H club boy from the Plainview school, showed in the heavier class and stood thirteenth, which was good, since around sixty calves showed.

Worming Hogs

All farmers should worm their pigs as soon as possible after weaning time. Phenothiazine, a tasteless powder, has proved to be an excellent worm killer. This can be given in the feed whether you are feeding grain from a self feeder or slop. Worm capsules are good but more trouble to give and only kill 60 per cent of the worms. Remember Phenothiazine and get your druggist to order it for you if he does not have it. Fattening pigs and shoats should also have a protein supplement. This will finish them out more quickly with less grain.

Poultry

America is needing eggs, and the government has put a floor on the price until 1945, so take good care of your chickens and cull out the ones that will never pay for their feed. Laying mash and oyster shell along with clean, cool water, should be before your hens at all time. A good filling of grain late every afternoon is all the grain they need. Keep them free of lice, mites and other parasites by applying sodium fluoride, nicotine sulfate diluted with water, or blue ointment mixed with lard under the chickens' wings, around their breasts and vents. A good laying hen should be wormed about once every 45 to 60 days, and their houses should also be kept clean, disinfected and properly ventilated. For further details contact your county agent's office.

Mrs. E. M. Wilson To Be Secretary of Chamber-Commerce

Henry Albritton, president of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce, announces the selection of Mrs. E. M. Wilson as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Wilson will also furnish her place of business as office headquarters.

Mrs. Wilson should serve Hamlin well in this capacity. She has known Hamlin since its pioneer days, and has had much experience in secretarial affairs. She should keep the committees and even the officers on the hop doing things Hamlin needs done for its "existence" and comfort.

Many people some times do not understand the real functions of a Chamber of Commerce. Some kick it, and some ignore it, while at the same time profit by its activity for the whole population of the community. If a commercial organization does not rally to the support of every legitimate enterprise in the community, in both town and rural district it fails and should not exist. The Chamber of Commerce is the "Host committee" for all the rest of us . . . and that means you.

The Hamlin Chamber of Commerce has only the money the men and women pay in as dues. It should be active and careful to spend such funds to the best advantage for the entire community, members or not members.

"Creepy" Cattle Reduce Supplies Of Needed Beef

"Creepy" cows, with stunted, thin calves, are a "bottle-neck" in the nation's beef-producing industry say livestock leaders who are pointing out the need for, and advantages of, adequate supplies of minerals for range and farm cattle this spring and summer. Lowered reproduction of breeding animals, loss in flesh, stunted calves, slower gains and lack of finish of fattening animals are some of the costly losses caused by mineral deficiencies in many areas.

That cottonseed meal, or cake, is an excellent source of phosphorus as well as a good protein supplement, was pointed out recently by Dr. H. Schmidt, chief of the division of veterinary medicine, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, who said: "Vegetation low in phosphorus will result in areas where soil is poor in phosphoric acid. In such cases, we can expect many animals to become creepy, especially in the latter part of the summer, and this results in heavy loss—not so much a direct loss by death as a loss in flesh of the mother and the decreased rapidity of growth and stunted condition of the offspring. The mother can be saved when this condition develops by supplying the lacking minerals in a readily-available form. Such a readily-available form of minerals, and especially of phosphorus, is contained in cottonseed meal; and the creepy cow placed on about two pounds of cottonseed meal, or cake, per day can invariably be put into a thrifty condition in a period of about six weeks."

Phosphorus' value and importance in rations of beef breeding animals has been clearly demonstrated by Experiment Stations. In a phosphorus-deficient area, the Texas Station found a difference in reproduction between two groups of cows each year so that, at the end of six years, cows receiving bone meal had an average calf crop 11 per cent higher than for cows that did not receive enough phosphorus from the roughage they ate. Similar work at the New Mexico Station showed that cows receiving adequate phosphorus produced more living calves and heavier calves. Total advantage per cow bred, in pounds of beef, was 76.9 pounds the first year, 97.6 lbs the second year, and 73.5 pounds more beef, the third year, than was produced by cows receiving no ad-

Hamlin Boy Writes Maybe From Australia

January 10, 1942

Dear Mom and Shortie:

Guess you have been wondering as to where I may be. Well, I am doing the same thing myself. We didn't or haven't gone to the place we thought we were going. We may be close to there before long . . .

I am in the best of health and am getting fatter every day. If we do not get to land soon and do some kind of work I won't be able to move around. Everything is as good as could be expected. We have everything we want with the exception of cigarettes, lighter fluid and flints. Boy, a good old American flag would be plenty good!

Well, guess you had a swell Christmas. I had planned to be at home this Christmas more than any other time, but Uncle had a better use for me, other places. Had much better Christmas than expected. At least it was with someone from from home. "Sonny" and I spent Christmas together. (He means James Steed, a Hamlin sailor boy). We spent three days together while we were in port. They came with us part of the way and turned back, so I don't know where he is. (Note how this boy keeps from telling that his troop ship was conveyed by a battleship, on which his Hamlin friend was a sailor.)

Everywhere we have been the people have been very nice to us. However we have only been on land two times since we left. Some day when I am permitted to do so, I will write to you and tell you all about the places where I have been.

Well, Mom, don't know much to say, but please don't worry about me. Because when this is all over you can bet your bottom dollar I'll be the first to come home. Now keep your chin up, and you and Bobbie Rae always remember I love you. Write to me soon and tell the folks to write.

"Buddie"

(NOTE) This letter is from Roy Edwin Tims, son of Mrs. Ina Tims of Hamlin. He is a boy everybody in Hamlin knows and loves. He has the stuff in him to make all of us proud of him. He is in an artillery outfit, and he knows how it is done. It is no secret now, or at least the general guess is that he was either in Java or Australia when he wrote, and had been in Honolulu about the time of the Jap attack) Yes, we have a letter on the way "somewhere" to Roy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Grigg, Miss Loucille Willis and Miss Beuna Rountree spent the week end in Dallas and Fort Worth.

ditional phosphorus.

Fattening steers at the Idaho Station made efficient use of the needed phosphorus that is furnished by cottonseed meal, a recent report shows. Steers on a ration supplemented with cottonseed meal made gains comparable to those of steers receiving bone meal as a supplement, causing the Station to comment: "Thus cottonseed meal lends itself to serve not only as an excellent protein supplement but also as a suitable phosphorus supplement."

Because they show that feeding of adequate amounts of cottonseed meal, or cake, to furnish the protein needed by the beef breeding herd or fattening cattle also supplies the phosphorus cattle require, these reports are especially valuable for cattle raisers in the South and the Southwest, and other areas.

Hamlin Navy Boy Carl B. Anderson Reported Missing

Last Saturday evening a message was sent from the Navy Department informing Mrs. Rosella Anderson that her son was missing. The message was as follows:

Washington, March 14, 1942

Mrs. Rosella Anderson:

"The Navy Department deeply regrets to inform you that your son, Carl Brown Anderson, water tender second class, U. S. Navy, is missing, following action in the performance of his duty and in the service of his country."

"The Department appreciates your anxiety and will furnish you further information, promptly when received."

Signed, Admiral Randall Jacobs
This message was first sent to Snyder, where Mrs. Anderson resided when her son gave her address as next of kin.

Mrs. Anderson has lived in Hamlin many years and her host of friends and acquaintances share with her their deepest sympathy.

Carl B. Anderson joined the Navy on March 27, 1928, making his time nearly 14 years in the service. He had served on many ships, in many waters, mostly in the Pacific. Several years had been spent in the Chinese waters, and on many occasions his letters to his mother indicated that he believed the time would come when his country would have to fight the Japs.

For many years Carl Anderson received the Hamlin Herald, and on several occasions exchanged Asiatic papers with this paper. When the recent trouble seemed eminent he was transferred to the Cruiser Houston and he was perhaps on the Houston when it went down in the recent battle with the Japs in the Java area. This information of the loss of the Houston has been given out by the Navy.

It is possible that young Anderson could have been taken as a prisoner and may yet show up alive; however, no one on that ship has been reported saved.

The family consists of the mother and three brothers and four sisters.

BIBLE STUDY

The Woman's Society of Christian Service concludes the Bible study next Monday afternoon. This Bible study under the direction of Mrs. J. W. McCrary has been well attended and proved to be very helpful and instructive to the women. Mrs. McCrary has presented the study in a wonderful way and the women of the church feel this has been a very helpful study, indeed.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Conner received a letter from their soldier son, Alvin Conner, showing him somewhere in Alaska. It had been two months since they had heard from him.

Highway Construction Work Started Monday

War On Rabbits

The people of the Swedonia community are having a rabbit drive next Tuesday, March 24, and they invite all who will shoot carefully and earnestly to come out at 9:00 (Central war time) and start at the school house.

Lunch will be served at the school at about 1:00 P. M. Better be on hand with a good aim and some results, if you want to eat.

This will be a good time to practice up a bit. Maybe you will be called on to shoot something you can't eat, before another rabbit season. Be there.

Men Wanted

We are working the Neinda Cemetery, Monday March 23. If you have loved ones there, come help work the graves. Also want to hire about 15 men, with tools, mostly grubbing hoes. Will pay 25c per hour. Meet me there at 9:00 A. M. Monday.
C. C. RENFRO

Sgt. W. B. Teague from the Curtis Air Field at Brady, came in on Friday of last week for a 15 day furlough. He is a son of Mrs. W. B. Teague of the Abbie Community. Sgt. Teague spent 10 months in a bombardment squadron in Puerto Rico and was transferred to the Brady school for training as a flyer. He has had 115 hours of flying. Now here's a secret—Teague pulled out to Chanute Field—not to see the field but perhaps some Yankee's daughter.

Relatives visiting in the home of Mrs. C. E. LaBaume over the week end were her mother, Mrs. Lillian Jones recently from Taft, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones and two children of Sweetwater, and Rev. Robert L. Jones of Cisco.

One of the very few new highway construction projects in West Texas got under full swing Monday morning, on the road from Hamlin to Rotan.

This is a little better than 20 miles of important road building that has been needed, has been promised and now under way.

Thomas & Ratliff, contractors, have been assembling machinery, and setting up offices at their headquarters at the big caliche pit southwest of the Hitson community. Monday things got under way and by Tuesday trucking of the base material started, just west of the M. K. & T. railroad and extended west. The section from the railroad to Hamlin to connect at Highway 83, must have further preparatory work done, and this provides for seven blocks of high grade paving from curb to curb within the city limits. The final completion of the distance in Hamlin to Rotan will require perhaps the next six months or longer.

It might be well to remember that this is not any form of WPA work, but a straight contract which calls for the best kind of road in the quickest time.

The City of Hamlin had to do considerable water main shifting and enlarging on Fifth Street (the Highway) before the road work started. This is all done now. When the work is done this will give a wide, curb to curb paving, and at the same time providing the property owners with an extra curbing space for shrubbery, grass or flowers. Let the good work go on.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom B. Conner and daughter, Mrs. Dick McMahan and husband and daughter went to Camp Wolters last Sunday to visit their soldier son O. D. and family, and daughter, Mrs. Carl Brubaker and husband, who also is a soldier.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. DeHart of Plainview visited his sister, Mrs. C. A. Carter and family Sunday.

This

AND A LITTLE BIT OF

Responsibility—

Perhaps no country in the world has as many small town newspapers as are operating in the United States. That's because of the unlimited free press in this nation. This fact alone places a great responsibility on the publishers in every community, more especially in this column called "Editorial."

Generally what the Editorial expresses is about what the community is thinking, or perhaps the local ideas of the paper has something to do with the general thought trend of the public it serves. The sum total of all the papers in the smaller communities therefore is what makes up public opinion of the mass of American life. Hence again the importance of the responsibility of the "country press."

In time of great tragedy and peril, like unto what this nation is now going into, one may search through the pages of the country papers on the exchange list and from them see how the people in all the communities "round about" are thinking and acting. Generally the highest type of patriotism is thus located. It is a high honor for the names of "war workers" to appear in public print. People like for their countrymen to know "what we're doing." The local newspaper carries the thought, not selfishly but gladly, freely.

What the newspaper says in time of war is very important. This is true in every paper, because many people form decisions of their own and then long to see in print what somebody else says on the same line. If perhaps the paper agrees with them, they feel better, safer. There is comfort in agreement.

American people enjoy having their "say" and nothing is liked better than jumping on something or somebody because of what was done or was not done. The newspaper comes along and either enflames or soothes the troubled waters.

We are now fighting a terrible war and the newspapers must assume their responsibility in helping to keep the boat on an even keel. If we had one sole dictator we would have nothing to do but herd along and take what fate hands out. But in this land of Texas, we folks demand a hand and a lot of say in what and how it is done. Everyone can not be pleased. Some of us think some things are done wrong, and some are done right, and this causes talk and worry. The trouble is that so many of us see such a small part and figure on short term action.

The newspaper is generally fairly well informed and it should be its aim to help keep matters going in a true, truthful, straight line, with out fear or favor.

—T & T—

What The People Don't Like—

One of the chief characteristics of the American people, like their kinsmen, the English, is that they like to express themselves, and there is no censor who can stop them. Maybe we talk too much.

What is it you do not like? Are your dislikes based upon hear-say, or are your dislikes founded upon what you imagine?

Sometimes our dislikes are based upon pure lack of information. We have only a few peep-holes to see through. Then we draw conclusions and begin expressing our findings in strong language. That is called freedom of speech.

Suppose you make a list of all the things, especially about your own blessed government, that you don't like. List them! Look at them!

The Herald has made a point to ask several Hamlin men and women this week: "What is it you don't LIKE?" You see Texas people have strong likes and dislikes.

One man says he heard one farmer say he had 150 acres of land the government would not let him plant a thing on. That this same farmer got enough pay from the government last year to pay all his expenses.

Most of the likes and dislikes center around the farm program or the labor controversies.

One man says he can't see why the government does not stop all kinds of relief. List them buddy. Name them.

One man complains about what he hears that is going on in defense plants. About stops, about throw-offs in work, about dodging the boss, about killing time to get overtime.

One man says that if he was boss in an airplane plant and he found a man of military age loafing on the job he would ask his draft board to call him home for army duty.

—T & T—

We Predict—

That before this 1942 year is past, the various American sports, like baseball, football, etc., will be very unpopular.

It takes men, real men, to put on a good show on the base ball diamond. It takes men and real men to do the job America calls for now. And there's no time for play, for entertainment, for spending for fun, when every ounce of our energy is needed to win a war that is thrust upon us.

We are going to quote a part of an editorial expressed by Mr. Grimes, in the Abilene-Reporter News, and this forceful writer feels what he says, because he has a son, an officer in the "foxholes and jungles of Bataan" or within the rocky rooms of Corregidor. . . . Here is some of what he said:

"Now you can relax. The men of Bataan scan the sky, the sea and the land in vain for the arrival of reinforcements, and the West Texas boys in Java turn eager faces to the eastward for the smoke of the rescuing flotillas; but here at home the sports pages of our newspapers scream the news that all is well with the New York Yankees, for Joe DiMaggio has signed up." Mr. Grimes picks this young Italian Joe to pieces. Joe wanted $45,000.00 — "not for a lifetime" but for this 1942 season, and entered into "an armistice, without a battle" for the mere sum of $42,000. "Now the boys can go back to their trenches, foxholes and breathe easy for awhile . . . all is well in America."

No sir-e-e, affairs in this blessed America cannot go on "as usual", now, for awhile, and get by with it. Not many mothers and fathers, even brothers and sisters can relish a sports game being played by able bodied men, while their loved ones are toiling "mid slime, mud and death". There is going to be something missing in the kick one gets out of sports this year. But one may say, "O, those men are all 3-A men." That does not make a bit of difference. Any 3-A man able to play base ball or anything else is able to help make a gun, a plane, a ship, or harvest crops. There is no middle ground any longer in this country and be "comfortable".

So many Americans have been thinking of the "screwed dollar$" till they can't think of MacArthur and his boys without first thinking of "how much will I get out of it?" Now if every dag-gone penny the American people should pay to see base ball games should go to the dependent loved ones of the boys in the "foxholes of war" it would still not be right. We need more than entertainment these days.

—T & T—

Another Prediction—

Several weeks before the Japs daggered the United States, we had a review of the life of General Douglas MacArthur, then "Field Marshal" of the Philippines. Then we predicted that this man would be the outstanding figure as a military man of America and maybe the world, provided this nation became involved in a world war.

Long ago, President Roosevelt said, "Whenever we have to have another AEF I want MacArthur to lead it." That has come true. Mac-

Arthur was too great a man to be left in such a small hole as that of Bataan and Corregidor. Now that this nation has yielded to the cry of Australia for MacArthur's leadership, the whole English-speaking world breathes a breath of relief to learn that General MacArthur and his wife, little son, and two or three members of his staff have safely landed in Australia.

Now we predict a turn in the battle for the southwest Pacific. Up to this time no general had enough men to lead. It would seem, now that MacArthur is to have a good sized army, including navy and airplanes to stop the Japs with. The whole world, outside of the Germans and Japs, and maybe the dago Italians, have been looking for an international general, and we predict, MacArthur is the man.

We predict, from here through, there will not be many more retreats, or defeats. O, certainly, we may expect losses in ships and men, war calls for that. Gen. Mac expects that too. Another thing . . . Gen. Mac will expect all it takes from home too, and he will get it, if somebody grants him the power. Hours do not mean a flip to him, and neither do wages count. The temper of the folks "back home" has reached such a pitch that anything MacArthur wants had better be quickly forthcoming . . . we predict.

Up to this time the Japs have licked the fraz out of the United States, England and the Dutch, on land, on sea and in the air. And that's one reason the American people are so outspoken about so much dum-doggling in getting something done. We predict action from here out. There are a lot of things costing this nation plenty of money that should be cut out. Not a day passes but that some citizen relates some unAmerican graft that is going on, that not only costs money but is delaying things the army and navy must have.

Again we say, "This country should back up, re-set itself on a construction basis, with military discipline, and on adjusted military pay." If a man be found capable of sawing lumber, welding iron, setting sewer pipe, or anything, draft him to do that thing, and make him do it, just like the world makes soldiers serve. It's a blamed poor rule that does not work both ways. If a company or individual gets too much profit in government work, to the detriment of the laborer, then again there is something wrong. Cut 'em down on the same level, and watch things hum.

Come on General MacArthur, only a hint from you and America will wake as never before, and who dares not answer the commands of Douglas MacArthur?

Bob Barrow and his son Bobbie visited T. C. U. in Fort Worth last Saturday, as guests of the institution. It would seem that Bobbie might appear on that university's famous foot ball team.

POT SHOTS FROM M'CAULLEY

BY GEO. DARDEN

Mr. and Mrs. Levi McCollum had as their guests last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Patterson and daughter Anna Louise of Abilene and Mrs. Harry Stephens of Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Dick Maberry is in a Stamford hospital for a minor operation and other sick folks of this community are Mr. and Mrs. Sid Hemphill, Mrs. J. H. Brawner, Mrs. Melvin Courtney, Dee Johnson and Jimmie Darden.

Rev. and Mrs. Dick and C. E. Jr. visited last week with relatives and friends at Crosbyton.

Three one act plays sponsored by the P. T. A. at the school house last Thursday night were attended by a large crowd. The plays which were in reality a contest between the Senior class, the Junior class and the P. T. A., of which were contesting for a case of soda pop, and the play put on by a cast of P. T. A. members was the winner. The Juniors won second place. The judges were the audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bishop and family spent the week end with relatives in Electra.

The barber shop talk is mostly of war, but now and then a heated argument will get started about politics. Frankly, we say that if Dan Moody takes after W'Lee O— Mr. O'Daniel is going to know that he has been to a horse race. And remember, this red-head from away down yonder has never been defeated and he is a campaigner of no mean ability. In fact, we predict Dan will win away out in front, or else it will be a photo finish.

Milt Carter and J. P. Sewell were trading in McCaulley Monday. Mr. Sewell is the owner of one of the large orchards in Fisher County.

Bill Carriker from the city of Royston was a visitor Monday. Bill recently sold his grocery store at Royston and is now dealing in cattle and hogs.

A sneak thief stole the tires and wheels off Dave Maberry's stock trailer not so long ago and to date there is no trace and to tell the truth, Dave is still plenty sore about the whole thing.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Miers and children of the Hobbs community were visiting friends and relatives in McCaulley last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wicker and children spent last Sunday in Abilene with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Skaggs have taken apartments in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Allen have rented apartments in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Martin.

Louis Hopkins has left for Austin where he will be employed in a grocery and market. Hop, as he is known by friends, has for the past fifteen years, been employed at L. E. Rector's garage and the folks around here are going to miss good old Hop.

McCaulley officers, looking for home brew, pistols, gaming, etc., made a raid on a negro shin-dig last Saturday night, but all that was found was chitlins and dumplings, chili and stew, and dozens and dozens of black birds, dancing to the tunes of "boogie woogie" and nigger blues. And we mean the little and big, the old and young, were swinging to and fro and from all we know they were dancing the "double shuffle, jitter bug and the big apple", and after the inspection and review, we are bound to agree that the negro is the happiest race on earth.

Due to scarcity of new lumber, there is quite a bit of trading in old buildings. Jess Green has purchased the McCaulley depot and is moving it to his farm south of town. If interested, this scribe has a 20x60 frame store building for sale.

Just remember, don't take chances on any other form of government—there is none better.

We say thanks to the cowmen who have come to us and insisted that we make the race for sheriff of Fisher county. All we can say at the present is "that you never can tell about an old horse fly". We did think seriously about making the race for County Clerk but just as we were about to rib ourself on such an adventure, out comes a widow lady and announces for the clerk's job and you know what that means. Any way, our feathers fell. And too, we may get a crack at the slant-eyed Japs, and if we get a chance to bump off a few of Mr. Tojo's little yellow men, then we consider we would be doing more for Fisher County and America than we could possibly do even if we were elected to any public office.

Changing the subject just a little, we are told that there are hundreds of miles of coastline, for instance, the Oregon coast, that is practically undefended and the thinly populated states that lie not far from the Pacific Coast which might be used for secret air fields by the enemy. Our humble opinion is that there should be an organization such as the "Rough Riders" of Teddy Roosevelt's day, to patrol these thinly populated states and give the Japs a hot welcome in case they should decide to try dropping their parachute troops on American soil. We have thought about such a patrol so long and to such an extent, that we have written our able Senator, Tom Cannally, suggesting such an organization. There are plenty of cowboys and men of the range, that are possibly too old for motorized warfare, but who could give the Japs the very devil with a good horse, saddle and Winchester.

CERESAN
PAYS!

There's everything to gain, and nothing to lose, when you plant CERESAN-treated cottonseed! Ceresan generally reduces seed rotting, sore-shin and certain other surface seed-borne diseases; commonly gives stronger stands; usually increases yields, often 10 to 25%. Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station, Stillwater, quotes progressive planters as reporting that treated seed often "pays for itself by allowing lower seeding rates, by simplifying the planting operations, and by improving the regularity and quality of the stand." CERESAN costs little, is easily applied. Get it from your dealer to treat your own seed, or buy seed marked with the Ceresan Certificate Tag.

TREAT OTHER SEEDS, TOO!
Use Ceresan Jr. for corn; New Improved Ceresan for small grains; Seneasan for vegetables; Seneasan Bel for potatoes.
